Board members may conduct an interview with that individual, after an application has been submitted already, before a regular board meeting using standard questions which may or may not be made available to the individual beforehand. The term of office for a Board member shall be three (3) years and is effective at the first meeting in which he/she is elected. The terms of office of the directors shall be staggered to ensure, as nearly as possible that one-third (1/3) of the directors are elected in each year. Board members may serve no more than two consecutive terms; however, they may be nominated for a new term after a one year lapse in office. Exceptions can be made to the term limits at the discretion of the Board with a majority vote. For reference on conflicts of interest, see Article IV, Section 8.

SECTION 3 - RESIGNATIONS: Any member of the Board or Committee or Advisory Council (AC) (for more on Committees see Article VI; for Advisory Council see Article VIII) may resign for personal or other reasons by submitting written notice of resignation to the Board President or Board Secretary unless the notice specifies a later time for the resignation to become effective. No director may resign when the corporation would then be left without a duly elected director or directors in charge of its affairs, except on notice to and permission of the Attorney General of California.

SECTION 4 - QUORUM: The presence of a majority of the Board of Directors, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Once a quorum is obtained at a meeting, it must be maintained for the purposes of voting and decision-making.

Failing a quorum, the members present may only receive executive and committee reports or may adjourn the meeting until another date and/or time without providing further notice.

SECTION 5 - REMOVAL: Any director may be removed for cause by majority of the directors who are present and voting at a properly convened meeting due to 1) violations of the bylaws, policies or rules of the corporation or, 2) for attitudes or conduct that are detrimental to the agency, its operations, its services, or its reputation. These inappropriate actions shall be evidenced by a detailed written complaint to a Board member and/or the Executive Director. The member in question will be allowed due process before a decision is finalized. All pertinent discussion of each case and voting shall be conducted in a properly convened closed session or special meeting of the board, with results recorded in the minutes following the closed session or at the next regularly scheduled board meeting. The process for removal of members of the DHHSC Advisory Council shall be the same as for the Board of Directors, with any complaints being directed to the Executive Director and/or Operations Director of the agency. Due process shall be carried out as described in great detail in the RRO guidelines.

SECTION 6 - VACANCIES: Members of the Board of Directors may, by majority vote of those present and voting at a properly convened meeting, fill vacancies of membership by electing an individual who meets qualifications for membership. direct expenses incurred in conducting agency business on behalf of the corporation or its Board. This compensation policy also applies to any committee or AC member.

SECTION 8 - CONFLICTS OF INTEREST: A director may provide contract or other services to the corporation and receive fair and reasonable compensation therefore as long as, in advance of the provision of any services: (a) the potential for a conflict of interest is fully disclosed and explained to the Board; (b) the Board makes an explicit determination that retaining the services of the Board member is in the best interests of the corporation; and (c) the Board member in question subsequently abstains from any and all Board discussions, decisions or votes involving or affecting the terms or compensation of their work, or otherwise presenting a potential conflict of interest or the appearance of such. If an individual interested in becoming a director or a member of an AC was involved in a previous employment situation that could cause a conflict of interest in current participation in Board or AC matters, that individual should refrain from becoming a member. Former employees of DHHSC or its outreach offices shall wait a minimum of one (1) year (12 months) after resignation before joining the Board of Directors or AC. Family members of DHHSC staff may not serve on the Board or AC. Two individuals of the same immediate family, or two individuals cohabitating or in a current intimate relationship, may not serve on the Board or AC at the same time unless an exception is agreed upon by majority of the members present and voting at a properly convened meeting. Individuals representing a potential sponsor of DHHSC may not serve on the Board of Directors as this may present an actual or perceived conflict of interest.

SECTION 9 – ATTENDANCE: Any member of the Board of Directors who is absent without prior notice presented at the meeting by a member Board of Directors or the Executive Director of the agency for three (3) consecutive Board meetings may subsequently be removed for cause from the Board of Directors by majority vote from the members of the Board who are present and voting at a properly convened meeting or closed session.
