

CHAT CHAT with Mariel Ortiz: DBSG at VDF 2024

Mariel: Hello! I'm here. All right, I'm here to announce—by looking at the time, you know what the Valley Deaf Festival booth has?! DBSG—what's that? I've decided to call two people.

Angelica: Hello!!

Mariel: I'm glad you're here to join us. You'll have the DBSG booth, correct?

Angelica: Correct.

Mariel: Explain what is DBSG?

Angelica: I'd be happy to elaborate. DBSG stands for D-Deaf, B-Blind, S-Support, and G-Group. DBSG will have a booth at the Valley Deaf Festival. Come visit us if you want to learn more about DBSG!

Mariel: What will your booth have? What will be provided?

Angelica: Sure! DBSG will have resources—not just from DBSG, but from other DeafBlind communities as well. We'll have a game with blindfolds, which is a lot of fun, yes! We'll also have a raffle drawing.

Mariel: Cool! I'm curious—what's the raffle prize?

Angelica: A DeafBlind culture basket.

Mariel: In there?! I can't wait to see what it looks like!

Angelica: And a DeafBlind person handmade a Christmas wreath! If you want to see it, buy a raffle ticket.

Mariel: Cool! They will have resources from the DeafBlind Support Group. Come and support us! The raffle is a must!! They've made handmade wreaths.

Angelica: Also, meet a DeafBlind person to see how we can communicate. Come and visit us!

Mariel: Yes!! Where will it be? At the Valley Deaf Festival (VDF). Thank you, Angelica, for bringing DBSG to VDF!

Angelica: You're welcome! I look forward to you coming to meet a DeafBlind person and discovering the resources we have at our booth.

Mariel: Thank you very much! I'll see you there!

Angelica: Bye!

Mariel: Now you see and understand what DBSG is! I'll see you next time, and I'll be there. Bye! I am Hermione the wizard!
